

The Educational Administration Department presents:

Educational Leadership in an Era of Accountability

A new course offered Spring 2007

Class meets in N200 LC
Wednesdays 4:30-7:00 PM

*07B:240 Special Topics in Education
Section 004*

This course is designed for graduate students in the College of Education who are interested in understanding the politics and policies behind No Child Left Behind and accountability systems in education. We will explore how standards-based education and high-stakes testing for the purposes of Federal accountability have affected how teachers and school administrators do their jobs.

For more information or a copy of the syllabus,
contact:

Liz Hollingworth, Assistant Professor
340C Lindquist Center South
liz-hollingworth@uiowa.edu